FRIVOLOUS MADRID.

Spanish Capital a Spendthrift Town and Devotee to Gossip.
The note of Madrid is frivolity. It is a spendthrift town. Nowhere do so many people of modest means keep carriages, or at least hire them. The automobile has supplied a new outlet to an old passion.

Nowhere do so many people who cannot afford to have a motor driver, or to buy regular supplies of petrol (which to be sure, is both dear and bad in Spain) keep an automobile. Therefore they turn out now and again for a short run at high speed to their glorification and the danger of the public. As for that public, it lives in the streets and in a perpetual state of brisk talk.

What London or Paris news comes through to Madrid, except telegrams, is mostly gossip. Important matters appear to interest the Madrilenos little. What did interest him was when a young person appeared on horseback in Hyde Park in a directoire costume. Feather-headed and light-heeled, the Madrilenos is, on the other hand, good natured and easy to live with.

Madrid women dress well, even very well, and the charm of the Spanish woman is never denied. Modern Madrid is sometimes supposed to be modeled on modern Paris, but the writer's view is that there is nothing Parisian about Madrid, except the skin.

Paris works desperately hard, is intensely interested in serious things and produces thinkers and men of intellectual and scientific eminence. Madrid certainly does not work hard, does not appear to be much interested in anything but frivolity, and few of her greatest men, even statesmen, are much more than names.—London Times.

THE FAMILY DOCTOR

Itching.

Pruritus, or itching, is not a disease in itself, but is a symptom of so many unhealthy states of the system, or merely of the skin, that it has given rise to a formidable list of prescriptions and suggestions for treatment. A great deal of itching is caused by eczema. It is the kind that is called "dry" or "scaly" eczema which gives rise to a most disagreeable and persistent form of itching, which sometimes does not stop even after the skin seems to have healed.

Another form, called "severe pruritus," attacks old people whose circulation is defective and whose skin has a tendency to become thin and atrophied. In many of these cases it will be found that there is little or no perspiration, and this fact has much to do with the constant irritation of the skin that some old people complain of so bitterly, and which is often so aggravated as to threaten the general health, if not life itself, by reason of the incessant nervous irritation and loss of rest. Anything that will restore the lost function of perspiring will relieve the itching in many of these cases.

A most intense and horrible form of itching is, as we all know, often caused by the bites of certain insects. People differ greatly in their susceptibility to the bites of insects, but some are driven almost crazy by the bite of a mosquito. This itching is caused by the irritating quality of the acid poison injected by the insect, and is best met, not by yielding to the impelling instinct to scratch, but by quickly meeting the acid poison by the application of an alkali, such as household ammonia, or, simplest of all, by rubbing the spot with a piece of common soap.

In nervous itching, where there is no break in the skin, great relief is often obtained by menthol, which relieves by substituting one sensation for another, but of course has no curative effect.

Persons with thin and irritable skins, prone to itch easily, should always wear silk or soft gauze undergarments and if they wear woolen underwear should take care that it does not come next to the body.

There are as many lotions and ointments for the relief of this trouble as there are causes for it, but these should be prescribed only by the physician who has ascertained the cause in each particular case.

Mrs. Carnegie and the Poor.

Few people know that prior to her marriage Mrs. Andrew Carnegie was an ardent worker among the poor and has continued her work, though in a more restricted fashion. She was Miss Louise Whitfield and in many years the Junior of Mr. Carnegie. The one child of the union, Margaret, was for some years exceedingly frail, a fact which caused Mrs. Carnegie to keep well hidden from the public eye. Even now that Margaret is a sturdy girl her mother shuns society and devotes herself to home life.

Buckwheat from "Buche."
The word "buckwheat" comes from the German "buche," or buck wheat. It is so called because it is triangular.

There is some objection because a man keeps his wife busy all day Sunday waiting on him.

The amateur gardener raises more blisters than vegetables.

TOWN TALK

Thomas Morrow's prices talk. McLeod, the grocer, is receiving a big stock of groceries. Thomas Morrow is pleasing the Richmond people with big bargains. Bert Lane has returned from Stanislaus to visit friends. The schools open Monday after their week of Easter vacation. The Presbyterian Church held appropriate exercises on Easter. The Pythian Sisters gave a whist exercise at Bank hall. New ads appear in the Terminal today. The best up-to-date job printing at the Terminal job rooms. The streets of Richmond in summer are all good thoroughfares. In our next issue, the Terminal will publish the names of all the candidates for city council. Thomas Morrow wishes the public to know that it is a fact that he is retiring from business. Many patrons are expected up from the West Side next week to trade. Our city is all one. Ladies canvas oxfords $1.50, for 75c. $2.00 for $1.25 at Thomas Morrow's, the only bargain giver. Vaudeville show at the opera house, Thursday evening, April 22. Mrs. Mary Nesbit has returned to Richmond from the east where she has been for two years. Miss Cloe Dover, of Bakersfield, is visiting her aunt, Mrs. Emery, at the Emery home. Clarence Burnett was down from Stockton to visit at the home of Rev. D. W. Calfee. Great Scott! Antioch has started a boom for July 4 through their Fraternal Order of Eagles. Arthur Oates has returned from McKittrick oil fields. He is now worth about $10,000. The Martinez high defeated Richmond Union high at East Shore Park, Saturday, 7 to 3. Guests who come to Richmond will enjoy whist parties or dancing, if acquainted. The Merry-makers give their usual regular dances at A. O. U. W. hall. East Shore Park will not be without its program of four evening dances. Just go down to the Point and see the shopping at the stores. Everyone is busy there. The Woman's Improvement club of Richmond pronounced Miss Flood's millinery up to date. Prof. U. T. Helms gave the Good Government League some sensible suggestions, which are being observed. H. Morton, the popular Oakland jeweler for Richmond visitors, has a new ad in the Terminal. His goods are reliable. Long lists of property in this city are advertised with no sales. Moral: Everybody boost for improvements. Superintendent E. T. Nesbit directed a beautiful cantata at the Christian Church Sunday School on Easter. Don't forget the grand entertainment and dance at East Shore Park by the consolidated fire companies of Richmond May 1. Mr. and Mrs. Walter Menzies, missionaries from India, talked at the Christian Church Monday evening of the needs over there. A. L. Leidy is in this city from Kansas, where he once knew Carter, the real estate man, and is a relative of W. D. Sells. Doctors Abbott, Martin and Cunningham managed the severely burned cases who were victims of the refinery explosion. Our Richmond Society folks, when arranging entertainments of the ball room, engage Palm hall, Bank hall or A. O. U. W. hall. William Minton, the mining king, has sold claims for $10,000. He is now in Richmond. He called at this office. Court San Pablo will give the 15th anniversary ball at San Pablo Maple hall April 23. A grand time is expected. F. Rhoads is the leading tailor. His shop is near Richmond post-office on Barrett avenue and Sixth street. See him. With all the list completed there have been thirty-six petitions filed for city councilman and one withdrawal, Frank E. Adams. Richmond has a north side, a south side, a west side, an east side, a zenith and a nadir, with good streets now to all places. Mrs. F. E. Adams, won the grand prize at the Pythian Sisters' whist tournament, Wednesday evening, April 14. The prize consisted of a $25.00 suit case. Mrs. J. B. Hume, President of the State Federation of Women's Clubs, will speak at the Bank Building hall, on next Friday afternoon at 2:30 P. M. Thomas Morrow is selling the high grade ladies La France, Hamilton and Brown dress shoes below factory prices, $3.50 for $2.65, $4.00 for $2.90 and the $5.00 for $3.50. Next Monday evening at A. O. U. W. hall the L. A. U. will give a grand basket rally. There will be a literary program and dance. Guests should come early. The funeral of the late Clarence G. Perault was the largest in Richmond for many a day. The floral tributes were suggestive, beautiful tributes of memory. Arthur Oates, who amassed a great fortune in the "oil" fields, now lives in San Francisco in a brown stone front of the upper ten row. The high schools in Contra Costa county have splendid talent for debate. It would be interesting to hear a good debate to see who is the intellectual leader. T. S. Duane of Martinez manufactures olive oil, excellent for table or medical purpose and his fine crop of Bing cherries will soon be on the market. At A. O. U. W. hall the Ancient Order of Foresters will give a whist tourney, Wednesday evening, April 29. Everybody come. Palm hall is taking the lead for social dances. Logan-Schwartz orchestra furnishes music for the events. This firm of musicians formerly played at Maple hall. W. H. Weeks, special architect for libraries, was in the city Tuesday evening to confer with the Board of City Trustees on City Library. Plans will soon be ready. Take a peek through the window at the ladies of Richmond going to Miss Flood's millinery store. When you have a store at home, buy from it. Mr. T. A. Andrews of this city received some time ago a message that his mother, who resides at Newport News, Va., has been and still is very ill. Vote for adequate street improvements on proper city grades, and building will go on in full measure and the dinner pail will be full. Frank Minor was married to Miss Pansy Cook, daughter of C. Cook of the East Shore and San Joaquin Railway Sunday afternoon, Rev. W. D. Calfee tying the knot. George Riggs is on the war path about the disfigurement of his bill boards. Nobody in Richmond would do that, George. They all belong to the Richmond Good Government League. High school baseball at Richmond promises to be "cracker-jack" exercise. Some of the grades will probably be able to enter the universities in good athletic trim. Lodge should sit up and take notice that it only costs five cents car fare from any point in Richmond to the pretty new Maple hall at San Pablo, a nice evening ride. Hello, Bill! Are you going to that vaudeville show at Richmond opera house Thursday evening, April 22? "Betcher sweet life I am." "So mi, Jim." Best show that ever hit this town. It is rumored that there were one hundred and fifty couple at the last Saturday night ball at Maple hall and three hundred couples will be accommodated at their dance tonight. I. M. Perrin has filed his petition for city councilman. Like some others on the board, he stands for lower grades and street improvements first, last and all the time. Go to the grand vaudeville at the Richmond opera house, Thursday evening, April 22. Four laughs every minute, under the auspices of the West Side Woman's Improvement Club of Richmond. Richmond Volunteer Fire Co., No. 2 crossed bats in base ball at Lang Park last Sunday with Volunteer Fire Co., No. 3 and scored against 3-just 20 to 12. It was a Marathon race. All that 3 has now is a good name. The teachers of the Richmond Union High school have opened a custom that will be generally adopted; that is dismissed to attend funerals. The pupils attended the funeral of C. G. Perault as a mark of tribute. Very beautiful Easter services were held in various churches of this city. There was a large attendance at all the masses of Our Lady of Mercy Church and the floral decorations were very elaborate. The big stores on Macdonald avenue do a "cracker-jack" business and have many patrons down at the Point who come up to lay in a supply at the big sales on the "Market Street of Richmond." There will be a crowded house at the grand vaudeville show at Richmond opera house, given under the auspices of the West Side Woman's Improvement Club, Thursday evening, April 22. Leave baby with nurse and go. Mr. N. B. Crane of Oroville, Cal., a prominent mining man and former Mayor of Portland, Ore., who has been seriously ill and who has so recovered as to be able to leave Burke Sanitarium, is visiting his daughter, Mrs. T. A. Andrews of this city. Miss Flood is having a big activity at her millinery parlors, merry widows, mushrooms, pans and anything you want. Be in fashion and see Miss Flood for your wedding hat, garden hat, traveling hat, anything in the millinery line—that's her business. Ernest Cranson, a bright young man related to the Cransons of this city, employed in Slade's cigar store, Oakland, suicided Saturday, taking mercuric chloride. Cause of troubles were unknown. The young man seemed to have spells of mental aberration. The remains of Charles E. Lawrence, who lost his life in the burning crude oil at the explosion of a still at the Standard Oil refinery last week, were shipped to Los Angeles on the "Owl" train Monday night. Deceased was a member of the Elks. T. B. Crane, the wealthy mining man of Oroville, with his daughter, Mrs. T. A. Andrews, called at the Terminal office yesterday. Mr. Crane was in good health and spirits, and, like his distinguished relative, Judge Crane of Hamilton, Ohio, we find the California Cranes happy and congenial. Cardinal Gibbons says: "Any divorced man or woman who is married the second time while having a wife or husband living, but legally separated by the decree of some court, is a polygamist." So Nevada marriage among the smart set are unholy, it seems. The funeral of John J. Moore, who has been an invalid at his residence on Twentieth street, this city, and who suddenly expired from cardiac paralysis, occurred from Our Lady of Mercy church Monday and interment was at St. Mary's Monday morning from Smallwood's. Richmond Good Government League will have its first open session, a monster rally of the voters, an open meeting at A. O. U. W. hall next Wednesday evening at 7:30. The meeting will have for discussion the questions of a closed, wide open or a regulated town, and all candidates for councilmen are expected to be present. Thursday the Volunteer Fire Department of the California Wine Association of Winehaven, this city, met for practice in gastronomy, at the Firemen's club room in the hotel, an evening affair. Chief Mahuke called the meeting to order and Secretary Barber called the roll and Superintendent Berend took observations. A practice test of the blend of hop extract with malt in the fluid form with juniplo Calwa sandwiches imported from Richmond were substantial evidences of efficient service that pleased Chief Mahuke. The drill was a grand success.

PATH OF PROGRESS.

The New Richmond Land Company offers the best inducements to home seekers in Richmond ever given about the bay. Read their big ad in the Terminal. An observer notes the great danger to the visitors to the oil refinery cataclysm, of death from a what-might-have-been explosion of 30,000 barrels of naphtha which was dangerously near the flames. He did not say what might have been the danger if the earth had cracked open to the center at that fire point. Charles S. Young, Esq., proprietor of the Terminal, after the death of Governor Cosgrove, received the sad message from Dr. Sawyer, the attending physician, and also a message from Mrs. Cosgrove, who conferred with Mr. Young about the funeral arrangements at Olympia. Mr. Young was touched on the death of his old classmate. Tired of dodging tornadoes Miss Nannie Nesbit has returned from the east to this city before the thaw. Richmond is the best climate of all, and this is her home. Miss Nesbit was in a tornado in Oklahoma and miraculously escaped death. Her shoulder was dislocated but was placed in correct position by a snap while exercising. William Dorman, who several days ago, had both legs broken, compound comminuted fractures, died at about noon Monday at Abbott Hospital and his brothers took the remains to La Junta, Colorado, via the Santa Fe, leaving Monday evening. Mr. Dorman was repairing a car when a switch engine striking a car the impulse caused the car to drop upon his legs while engaged at work. Deceased was a member of the Ancient Order of Foresters, who had charge.

Get Rid of Spring Humors

Impure or effete matters accumulated in the blood during the winter, cause in the spring such disfiguring and painful troubles as boils, pimples, and other eruptions, also weakness, loss of appetite, that tired feeling.

The best medicine to take is Hood's Sarsaparilla, which thoroughly cleanses the blood, and effects permanent cures by giving healthy functional activity to the stomach, liver, kidneys, bowels and skin.

Hood's Sarsaparilla effects its wonderful cures, not simply because it contains sarsaparilla, but because it combines the utmost remedial values of more than 20 different ingredients, each greatly strengthened and enriched by this peculiar combination. These ingredients are the very remedies that successful physicians prescribe for the same diseases and ailments. There is no real substitute for Hood's Sarsaparilla. If urged to buy any preparation said to be "just as good," you may be sure it is inferior, costs less to make, and yields the dealer a larger profit.

Begin taking Hood's Sarsaparilla today, in the usual liquid form or in the chocolate tablets known as Sarsabats. 100 Doses One Dollar.

Not Slung After All.
"We are so used to slung," said the Woman Who Reads, "that we have fallen into the habit of including in that category almost every unusual word or phrase. For example, the word 'slung' means to battle, to confuse, to perplex. That word is misapplied to various phases, 'phase,' 'phase' and 'faze.' It is not slung, and any woman may use it without fear, for it is as good English as any other in the language. Shakespeare employs it, spelling it 'faze,' as it should be spelled. Then there is the phrase 'he down' which almost everybody regards as slang when used in the sense of a render to obstacles or failure. It, too, is not slang. We have for it no less an authority than Thomas à Kempis who certainly cannot be considered an imitator of George Ade. That eminent writer says: 'Love fears no burden, thinks nothing of trouble, attempts what is above its strength, pleads no excuse of impossibility; for it thinks all things lawful for itself, and all things possible. It is therefore able to undertake all things and to complete many things and warrants them to take effect, where he who does not love would lie down.' He undoubtedly uses the expression as meaning to give in in the face of difficulties. It is better not to face a word or phrase as slang unless one is sure."

Inside Information.
"Did you notice that handsome lady who just went out?" queried the book seller.
"Yes," replied the man in front of the counter. "What about her?"
"She has a very interesting history," said the literary "pansy."
"How do you know?" asked the other.
"Because I sold it to her a few minutes before you came in," replied the other, as he indicated in an open faced grin.

CLEANEST OF SPORTS

Evangelist Billy Sunday, a Former Player, Pays Tribute to Baseball.
Rev. William A. Sunday, the evangelist, was, as is well known, one of the best ball players in the country a score of years ago. Billy was long a member of the Chicago team and was noted as a brilliant outfielder and one of the fastest base runners that ever trod the green diamond. Speaking of the game not long ago in Spokane, where he was conducting a revival meeting, Sunday said:

"I wouldn't take $100,000 for my professional baseball experience. I am paid $1 a game and that I was one of the best of them in my day. Baseball is the one sport in this country upon which the gamblers have not been able to get their crooked claws. There isn't the same degree attached to a professional baseball player that attends other professional athletes. The gamblers tried for thirty years to get control, but the men behind the game have stood firm and true. Baseball has stood the test. It is a pure, clean, wholesome game, and there is no disgrace to any man to-day for playing professional baseball."

"I rarely have a chance to see a game nowadays, but when I do I take it. I read the sporting pages every morning, however, and follow the fortunes of the team. Old Cap Anson, I believe, was the best batsman the game ever knew. Just look at that grand record of his through his twenty-one years of experience. He could hit your mind for yourself. He could hit anything. He used an extremely heavy bat, the fault both as to weight and as to length and thickness, and swung easily. It used to do our hearts good to hear the crack when old Cap met the ball squarely."

"Mike Kelly was one of the greatest players the game ever saw. He was a faster man than Anson on the bases, a fine hitter and a great catcher. Old John Clarkson had just as much as any of the pitchers nowadays, except the spit ball. He was one man who could actually make the ball curve upward on one of those terrific overhead shots of his. The man didn't live who could hit that fast raise ball when it came working right. He had a peculiar pitching position, and bent away down in delivering the ball. He did not start it at the top of his height."

Jews in Greater New York.
Charles A. Dana only a few years before his death prophesied that in 1902 New York City would be a Jewish community. New York City today contains 1,002,282 Jews, and is the largest community of Jews in the world. Although there never has been an official census taken of the Jews in the Manhattan and Bronx boroughs, yet Attorney Mark J. Katz, private secretary for Edward Lauterbach, having just completed a personal investigation of this matter lasting over four months, is of the opinion that in those two boroughs there reside 750,000 Jews.
More than one-quarter of all the persons in Greater New York City are Jews. Warsaw, Poland, contains the third largest settlement of Jews; the borough of Brooklyn, which contains 250,000, being the second on the list. Only within the last fifteen years have the Jews been settling in numbers in Brooklyn, fifty years ago there having been not a single Jewish name in the Brooklyn directory.
There are more Jews in Greater New York than in the European cities of Vienna, Berlin, Vilna, Lemberg, Amsterdam, and London all put together. Ten per cent. in fact, of all the Jews in the world reside within the boundaries of Greater New York.
Dr. Joseph Voorsanger, who recently died in San Francisco, stated that in the whole of France there were only one-tenth as many Jews as in Greater New York, and that Greater New York contained twenty times as many Jews as were to be found in the whole of Italy. If there are 1,002,282 of them in Greater New York, an Attorney Katz affirms, this would be fifteen times more Jews than Syria and Palestine contain, and twenty-five times more than the entire population of Jerusalem.

The Fair Pathman.
"Frederick Townsend Martin is the leader of the more intelligent and elegant section of society," said a New York club man. "True elegance implies intelligence, you know. So, at least, Cicero says. And certainly Mr. Martin is intelligent enough. He is always getting off intelligent things. Only the other day—"

The club man laughed heartily. "The other day a young cigarette salesman had the impudence to call on Mr. Martin—he had brought a letter of introduction from some hard-up nobleman or other—and he said:

"You are recognized, sir, as the arbiter of taste and elegance here in New York. I am introducing a new Egyptian cigarette, the Fair Pathman, and if you will take it up, sir, its success is assured."

"While Mr. Martin studied a small sample box of Fair Pathmans the young man resumed:

"These cigarettes will become the fashion, sir, if you will only call for them at sherry luncheons, Plaza teas, St. Regis dinners, ball suppers and so forth."

"Mr. Martin smiled.
"I shouldn't mind obliging you," he said, "but what on earth would I do if they happened to keep them?"

Cold Prospect for Him.
"There is no doubt," said the poet, "that I shall find flowers beneath the snow this winter. But—the trouble is, shoveling snow to find roses is rather rough on genius, and paying for a shovel on the installment plan is so unpoetical!"—Atlanta Constitution.

All Who Would Enjoy

good health, with its blessings, must understand, quite clearly, that it involves the question of right living with all the term implies. With proper knowledge of what is best, each hour of recreation, of enjoyment, of contemplation and of effort may be made to contribute to living aright. Then the use of medicines may be dispensed with to advantage, but under ordinary conditions in many instances a simple, wholesome remedy may be invaluable if taken at the proper time and the California Fig Syrup Co. holds that it is alike important to present the subject truthfully and to supply the one perfect laxative to those desiring it.

Consequently, the Company's Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna gives general satisfaction. To get its beneficial effects buy the genuine, manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co. only, and for sale by all leading druggists.

Fact and Fiction.
Fiction is stranger than truth, in spite of the proverb. A writer in the Archduke gives a striking example of the contrast between "the way it is in books" and real life. In the books this is the method used:

"Outside the wind moved unceasingly, its voice now that of a child which sobs with itself in the night, now that of a woman who suffers for great pain alone, as women must suffer till life begins, as women must suffer till life wears to its weary end. And mingled with the wailing of wind, rain fell heavily, interminably, like tears wrung from souls of strong men."

In real life we say:
"It's raining."

An Electric Rat Killer.
An electric rat killer is the latest means designed for slaughtering rodents. Recently it was tried in Trieste, France, and it is claimed that it produced good results.

The "killer" is made so that it can be lowered into drains and other infested places. It consists of a shallow tray, with a bottom lined with closely spaced metal points, alternately connected to the positive and negative terminals of a high tension electric circuit. The animals are promptly electrocuted as they step on the points in attempting to reach the bait. The apparatus destroys only rats and similar vermin, and it is affirmed that there is no risk to cats and other domestic animals.

Investigations are the order of the day. It would be well if every man were to constitute himself a committee of one, and make a thorough examination of his own life, even though the report should not be made public.

Archduke's Simple Life.
The Archduke Leopold Ferdinand of Austria, better known by reason of his matrimonial escapades as Leopold Woelfling, is leading the simple life at Bionville, a little fishing village on the Normandy coast. Leopold is a brother of the ex-Crown Princess of Saxony, who is now Mme. Toselli. The archduke and his present wife occupy a small fisherman's cottage facing the sea and surrounded by gardens full of fruit and flowers.

The aristocratic tenant keeps no servants. A char-woman comes for a few hours every day, while Mme. Woelfling, who dresses in a peasant's costume, attending to the cooking. The husband, wearing coarse linen trousers, a battered cap and cap, and neither collar nor tie, does the daily marketing.

The archduke, who has successfully passed the examination at the polytechnic school at Zurich, intends seeking a situation as a civil engineer.

Repairs Needed.
Thomas A. Edison said recently in a lecture:
"Within five years the North Pole will be reached in a 40-hour trip, and the globe will be encircled in a week."

"But the type of aeroplane must be changed," continued Mr. Edison, "before such flights are undertaken, or otherwise aeroplanes will be talking like the automobilist who, after buying a cheap car, visited the salesrooms and said:
"You said when you sold me my four-horse-power runabout that you'd supply all parts broken?"
"Yes, sir," said the salesman.
"Then," said the other, "let me have at once, please, a first and third class two-front teeth, one left ankle bone and a nose-bridge?"

PRESIDENT TAFT'S WHITE STEAMER

President Taft and His Family in Their White Steamer

When the announcement was made in private service. When their labors were completed, the officials reported unanimously to Mr. Taft in favor of the White, and accordingly, a car of this make was immediately ordered from the manufacturer. The White Company of Cleveland.

The new car was delivered to Mr. Taft in Washington a few days before his inauguration and since that time it has been in almost constant use. There has not been a day when the President or some members of his family have not been seen riding around the national capital in the new car. It is hinted that Mr. Taft likes fast traveling and that when he rides into the open country he does not always insist that the speed of the car be kept within the legal limits.

C. A. Hawkins, manager of the Pacific Coast branch of The White Company, 1470 Market Street, San Francisco, said recently to a correspondent of this paper: "We are receiving many inquiries each day asking for full details regarding the construction of Mr. Taft's car and in a reply we are sending copies of our catalog. Mr. Taft's car is exactly like our other Model 'M' 40 horse-power White Steamer, except that his car has the United States coat of arms painted on either door. In other words, when we make a car for the President of the United States there is no way in which we can make it any better than the car which you, or anybody else, can purchase from us."
"Some of those writing to me about Mr. Taft's car say that although they are very desirous of having a car like Mr. Taft's, they are afraid that such a car is somewhat larger and more expensive than they desire. In reply to these letters I point out that our Model 'O' 20 horse-power car is exactly like our 40 horse-power model, except as regards the size of the different parts. The principle of construction is exactly the same and the smaller car possesses all the desirable qualities of our larger model. In other words, I point out that they can secure an exact duplicate of Mr. Taft's car for $4,000, or a car of the same qualities but of smaller dimensions for only $2,000. Judging by the demand for White cars, a good proportion of those desiring to purchase automobiles are quite content to trust President Taft's judgment as to the best and most desirable make."
